Thomas Linzey is the Executive Director of the Community Environmental Legal Defense Fund (CELDF) and co-founder of Democracy School. Linzey has been featured in the New York Times, Mother Jones, The Nation, and was named, in 2007, as one of Forbe's magazines "Top Ten Revolutionaries."

"As a people of 'we the people' fame we have become either ahistorical, amazingly obedient, exceedingly stupid, or all three. We can stay that way if we choose – either denying the corporate state or resigning ourselves to it – with the understanding that every day we fail to challenge the corporate state is another day that the planet falls down around us."
